YOUR COMMUNITY NEEDS YOU!

Fox Valley United Way

Reach out a hand to someone in need. That's all it takes to change your community.

The Fox Valley United Way gives you a “way” to do just that. We connect those who NEED help with the basics of housing, food, health and education with those who WANT to help. We are able to assist people in crisis because others are willing to give, advocate and volunteer to make a difference.

The donations we receive support more than 50 social service agencies in Kane and Kendall counties. Each year, thousands benefit from a variety of programs, from homeless shelters and food pantries to job training and medical care.

The economic downturn is driving more and more individuals and families to seek out social services, and yet the amount of resources available to sustain them has decreased.

By giving to the United Way, you fund programs that promote lasting change—addressing the underlying causes of problems and equipping people to become healthier and financially independent. Every donation counts. It's all about caring people working together to advance the common good.
